ENDORSE NATION-WIDE PROHIBITION IS PROGRAM OF OHIO PROGRESSIVES

No Amalgamation With the Republican Party Except On Terms of Unconditional Surrender Is Bull Moose Slogan

1000 DELEGATES PRESENT FROM ALL OVER OHIO

Convention Called to Order at 11 O'clock This Morning by National Committeeman Walter F. Brown—Key-note Address Delivered by Judge Littleford of Cincinnati—Effigy of Dead Man Labeled "The G. O. P." Carried Around the Hall During the Opening Preliminaries—James R. Garfield Will Probably Be the Gubernatorial Candidate.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Jan. 2.—With probably 1000 delegates present from throughout the counties of Ohio, members of the Progressive party convened in the chamber of commerce building at 11 o'clock today to take steps that would mark its policy in Ohio in the coming state campaign.

The conference was called to order by National Committeeman Walter F. Brown. Mr. Brown in his introductory remarks made it plain that he was not in favor of amalgamation with the Republican party on any other terms than by "unconditional surrender" of the latter to the Progressives. Mr. Brown's declaration in opposition to amalgamation was applauded.

Following Mr. Brown's address Judge W. H. Littleford of Cincinnati, was made chairman of the conference and proceeded to deliver what was supposed to be the key-note address, foreshadowing the course expected to be taken.

During the preliminaries the Toledo delegation marched around the hall bearing the effigy of a dead man labeled "The G. O. P."

The Bull Moose, the official emblem of the Progressive party was much in evidence among flags and other decorations in the hall.

C. D. Chamberlain of Geneva, was today elected state committeeman from the 19th congressional district, succeeding C. L. Knight of Akron, whose resignation had been announced.

Professor A. R. Hatton, of Cleveland, was named to succeed James C. Keller, who had resigned as committeeman from the 21st district. Former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, was to address the convention at 2 p. m. Mr. Beveridge was occupied during the forenoon with conferences in which Walter F. Brown, James R. Garfield, A. L. Garford and other participated.

A feature of the preliminary conference held today previous to the convening of the conference of Ohio Progressives was an apparent crystallization of sentiment among the leaders to favor an endorsement of resolutions looking to the submission of an amendment to the federal constitution providing for nation-wide prohibition. This was to be favored rather than a move for state-wide prohibition, according to the agreements tentatively reached. James R. Garfield of Cleveland, Walter F. Brown of Toledo, Arthur L. Garford of Ellyria, participated in the conference meetings and Mr. Garfield who is expected ultimately to be the Progressive candidate for governor made an address favoring a stand in support of the nation-wide prohibition movement. It was understood that the others acquiesced in this stand.

The Toledo delegation, about 200 strong, arrived at 11 o'clock and up to that hour was the largest body that had arrived. Cleveland and other northern Ohio cities and towns apparently had larger representation than the southern end of the state.

Whether to endorse an amendment to the constitution favoring state-wide prohibition will be one of the most important questions to be discussed at the conference of the leaders of the Progressive party of the state here today. The question of woman's suffrage, it is said, will be another of the important proposals to be considered.

At an informal conference which lasted into the early hours of today and which was attended by about 75 Progressives, a motion declaring in favor of the submission of an amendment to the federal constitution providing for nation-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic was adopted.

According to statements made by some of those who attended the informal conference which last night voted for the submission of a prohibition amendment it was their desire to take the initiative on the prohibition question, and if their action is approved by the vote of the conference today all of the progressive organizations of the various states will be asked to take similar action. This, these men contend, would place the progressive party in the position of taking the initiative on the question of prohibition in the various states.

New Opera Star Began Career With a Romance

Mme. Margaret Ober, the beautiful mezzo-soprano whose appearance at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York has deeply interested musical critics, began her stage career in love. She was in love long before she decided to sing professionally, and under its influence her musical ability developed so rapidly that her husband decided that she should sing in opera.

She began the study of music as a young girl in Berlin with no thought of becoming a professional.

But at her music teacher's she met Arthur Arndt, a young student who was preparing to become a teacher. When he opened his studio she joined his class. Not long after they were married. She began to sing so well that Mr. Arndt was convinced she should go into opera. He got her an engagement at Stettin six years ago, and after six months there she was engaged for the Royal Opera in Berlin. There she remained until this season, when she was asked to come to the United States.

McNamara, Asbury Bishop, Charles Miller, Herbert Harris, Charles O'Bannon and George Fromholtz. The board then organized by electing J. J. McNamara president, H. H. Harris vice president and W. H. Broome secretary.

Following the custom of some seasons past, the association was the first to announce its dividend, which amounts to three percent for the past six months.

GRANVILLE MAN LOCATES MISSION IN CAFE BUILDING

The room formerly occupied by Frank Spring's cafe in Case avenue, rear 145 Leroy street, will be opened tomorrow afternoon as a Baptist mission with Rev. George C. Ewart of Granville in charge. The room has been renovated and redecorated and equipped with chairs and benches sufficient to accommodate a large audience. Rev. E. H. Jones of Granville, a missionary to Japan, who is at present at home on a leave of absence, will dedicate the mission with a sermon Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Arrangements have been made to interest the Roumanian and Hungarian residents of that section of the city and John Sochack, a student of Denison University, will aid in the work among the people of these nationalities. Those in charge extend a cordial invitation to the English speaking people interested in this work, to unite with them, visit the mission often and take part in the services. The gymnasts used in the tabernacle meetings a year ago have been adopted for the musical feature of the meetings.

BATTLE IS IN PROGRESS AT OJINAGA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) President Wilson's Jan. 2.—Savage fighting between rebels and federals at Ojinaga continued throughout the night and was still in progress this morning. The besieged federals who were thrown into a panic at the first onslaught of the rebels today were resisting stubbornly all attempts of the attacking army to drive them from their position.

Before daybreak the artillery fire of the rebels, which had continued all night, became more furious. A rain of shells descended on the federal entrenchments. Wounded soldiers who found their way across the river, told the Red Cross officials that the federal losses were heavy.

During the night about 200 federals made a desperate sortie from the river bottom about a half mile from Ojinaga attempted to dislodge the rebels. But the constitutionalists opened fire on them with machine guns and whipped them back with severe losses.

Scattering bullets fell on the American side of the line today, but no one was injured. Fresh Red Cross supplies, which had been urgently needed arrived today. Nurses and physicians are preparing to care for the large number of wounded they expect to find on the field at the conclusion of the battle.

The federal army paymaster with $145,000 in Mexican currency arrived from Marfa today. A report that the money had been stolen proved untrue. The money was rushed across the river in the hope of encountering the federal soldiers. General Francisco Castro and Mercazo sent word that they had no intention of abandoning the town.

The rebels have been enforced until they numbered today 6,500. A fresh supply of ammunition is expected from Chihuahua.

CHESTER WITH LIND ABOARD SAILS TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 2.—President Wilson's mysterious conference on board the cruiser Chester with John Lind, his personal envoy to Mexico, was completed late last night but nothing had been revealed this afternoon as to the exact nature of matters discussed.

Whether any concrete development would result from the conference was as much a matter of conjecture as ever Mr. Wilson, expected however, later in the day to make a statement. An interview on the scout cruiser between the President and Mr. Lind was comparatively brief although the Chester had come 540 miles in order that it might be held.

It was evident that the President desired that Mr. Lind's visit merely partake of the nature of a few days' cruise from Mexico with no material interruption of his task of close observation there. President Wilson does not wish Mr. Lind to return to the United States until the Mexican problem is settled and he believes, that in the former Governor of Minnesota he has a representative in the war-torn republic who will continue to keep him intimately and closely informed of the situation.

COMMISSIONERS REPLY TO CRITICISMS ON MANAGEMENT OF THE COUNTY INFIRMARY

The President this morning took Mr. Lind's two sons 87 miles in his automobile to the pier from which they boarded the revenue cutter Winona and went to the cruiser Chester to bid their father good bye. The Chester was to sail for Vera Cruz today.

NO CHANGE IN POLICY OF THE ADMINISTRATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Gulfport, Miss., Jan. 2.—President Wilson said today that his conference with John Lind had developed no change in the policy of the Washington administration toward Mexico and that no new plan or move in the situation had been decided upon.

The president referred to the conference as a "get together talk" for mutual information. He explained that although Mr. Lind constantly had been sending full dispatches, a conversation of a few hours had been deemed worth more than weeks of telegraphic communication with the added value of affording an exchange of viewpoint regarding the situation.

President Wilson added that there had been no special occasion for Mr. Lind's visit—no advice, or new questions. The president said his conversation with Mr. Lind had covered the whole field of conditions in Mexico but that no particular measure or plan had been dwelt upon.

When asked if he was more hopeful for a speedy settlement of the trouble Mr. Wilson made it clear that his personal view of the situation had not changed. The president has held that the Huerta government is slowly being crushed, not only by the constitutionalist forces but through financial isolation and "that inevitably it must fall. He smiled when told of reports that Provisional President Huerta or some high official of the Huerta government was on board the Chester and said: "Well, I did not see them if they were there."

The president said that while Mr. Lind was not exactly enjoying his long stay in Mexico, he was perfectly willing to stay there and was deeply interested in the situation.

The president laid emphasis on the fact that nothing specific such as the removal of the embargo on arms or similar moves had been discussed.

SEA BRIGHT WASHED BY HIGH SEAS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Sea Bright, N. J., Jan. 2.—This village, not yet normal after the disastrous storm of Christmas eve, was lashed by wind and wave again today. The bulkheading replaced after the recent storm was swept away by the high tide and strong wind during the night and at daybreak the wind was still in the east and the sea was inundating all buildings along the shore line.

The worst damage was at Octagon Hotel, where the seas tore away the jilting driven into place after the storm a week ago and wrecked the dining room wing of the structure. In the fishing section of the village where the Christmas storm did the greatest damage, wind and water were playing havoc today. Buildings which had been strengthened were again undermined and toppled over. Great quantities of sand were deposited on the tracks of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and it looked as though traffic would be blocked. Emergency squads of workers were doing everything in their power to erect barriers to meet the sea at high tide at noon. Persons with summer cottages here were notified by telephone and men were despatched with instructions to meet the emergency as best they could. Many cottages were flooded.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) East Liverpool, O., Jan. 2.—A petition signed by 1579 voters asking for a Beal law wet and dry election in this city was filed late yesterday with Mayor A. V. Schriber. The election date will be fixed by council and will be not later than February 1. The petition was circulated by the

INFIRMARY IS NOT A SANITARIUM OR A RETREAT

Messrs. Jones, Orr and Dumm State That the Infirmary Only Came Under the Management of the County Commissioners a Year Ago and That the Present Board Only Took Office Sept. 15.—Inmates are Well-Clothed, Fed and Housed—Paramount Duty of Commissioners is to Watch Closely Interests of the Taxpayers.

Mr. Editor: You have allowed the use within the last few days of a large amount of space to a self-appointed committee and investigation of the county infirmary, containing some facts, a great many things absolutely untrue, and many impracticable suggestions and recommendations. Let us understand to start with that this is an infirmary, not a sanitarium or retreat for those that wish treatment and care and are willing to pay for such care and treatment. An infirmary, the expense of which is met by forced charity of the taxpayer of the county. Let us also understand, that the direction of the infirmary came within the jurisdiction of the county commissioners one year ago on Jan. 1, 1913. The board at that time having only a few months to serve, was not justified in starting any elaborate change.

The present board has not had time since September 15th when they took office, to make many changes.

Men of good business sense and judgment are not in the habit of tearing down and rebuilding buildings during the winter months. Everyone knows that these buildings are old, but they are the same buildings and the rooms are the same as they have been all these years, why this spectacular eruption at this time.

They say, "no carpets," since when has it become sanitary to have carpets in infirmaries?

They say, "the plumbing is out of date," but they failed to discover that this institution is situated on the top of a hill, no water near and not much under the ground, located there before this board was born. Within the last year there has been expended $132.16 repairing the plumbing. They say, "no paper on the walls." There has been expended within the last year $156.05 for papering. They say, "there is no furniture." There has been expended within the last year $226.70 for furniture, and we think, there was some there January 1, 1913.

They say, "there was practically nothing in the storage room." There has been expended within the last year $1,236.75 for ready-made clothing and shoes for this department, besides bolt after bolt of goods that was to be made up at the institution.

They say, "they did find enough drugs to supply Licking county." There has been expended within the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1.)

BRYAN WILL ADDRESS THE CONVENTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Kansas City, Jan. 2.—The total foreign missionary contributions of American Protestant churches for the last year was $16,398,000, according to a statement made to the student volunteer convention today by J. O. Campbell White of New York City, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary movement. Dr. James L. Barton of Boston, secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, J. H. Franklin, foreign secretary of the American Baptist foreign missionary society and Dr. R. F. Horton of London also spoke.

Tonight William J. Bryan, secretary of state will address the convention. The evening is to be devoted to a symposium of "The World Strategy of Christ." Mr. Bryan arrived here this morning from Washington. "The contribution to foreign missions for the year just ended," declared Mr. White, "is twice the total amount contributed to foreign missions eight years ago. Contributions to the home missionary objects during the same period, although I have not the exact figures, have been much larger than the increase to foreign missions."

DATE SET FOR THIRD TRIAL OF DR. SMITH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Springfield, O., Jan. 2.—Dr. Arthur B. Smith will be given his third trial during the week of February 16, under the assignment of cases arranged by Prosecutor Charles Ballard. Dr. Smith is accused under four indictments with being responsible for the death of his first wife, Mrs. Florence Caviler Smith, by administering some drug. Twice he has been tried and each time the jury disagreed. Dr. Smith is free on heavy bond.

GIRL DIES FROM FRIGHT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Worcester, Mass., Jan. 2.—After 221 1-2 hours of unconsciousness, Miss Anna Wheeler, daughter of Dr. Charles D. Wheeler, died today in the city hospital. The hospital physicians declare that the girl was frightened to death when an automobile in which she was riding on Christmas day, was struck by a trolley car. Fear of the blow from the approaching trolley car apparently caused a rupture of a blood vessel in her brain.

Atty. Gen. Hogan Has Formally Announced Candidacy For Senate

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, Jan. 2.—Attorney General T. S. Hogan who is in Cincinnati has formally announced his candidacy for the United States senatorship. When asked what his platform would be, he said "I am a Democrat pure and simple. I endorse the administration of President Wilson without reservation."

"The strong arm of the government is not to be used to favor a few. I do not believe the prosperity of this country is dependent upon any special privilege. I believe in the Wilson tariff measure and in his currency bill. If I should be elected as United States senator I will be in line with the policies of the president."

Jewett Car Company Sells 100 Cars For Use On 'Frisco Road

Newark and Licking county visitors to the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915 will feel perfectly at home when they board cars in 'Frisco to be transported to the exposition grounds. The greatest majority of 'Frisco cars will be Newark-made. The Jewett Car Co. Friday closed a contract with the Gerry Street Municipal railway for 100 cars to be delivered by Jan. 1, 1915. The order was secured by Edwin Besuden, sales manager for the Jewett company who left the day after Christmas for San Francisco to be present at the opening of bids.

Newark people should find much satisfaction in the fact that out of a half dozen bidders the 'Frisco officials found that the Newark company's bid was the best offered. Probably the fact that the Jewett company had cars in service on the streets of the Golden Gate city for a year, had much to do with the purchase of the Newark-made product. The biggest car builders in the country competed for the contract but considering the quality of cars offered, none of them could "come close" to the values offered by Mr. Besuden in behalf of his company.

All the cars will be of the pay-eyon-enter type and all will be equipped with motors, none of the cars being of the trailer type. The 100 cars in one string would make a train which would reach from the court house to Eleventh and West Main street. They represent thousands of dollars in labor for Newark experts. The presence of these cars in 'Frisco, particularly at a time when millions will visit the Western metropolis during the exposition means much to advertise this city.

Newark-made street cars are used daily to transport millions to and from their homes. Jewett cars are found in cities from Boston to Seattle and San Francisco; from Detroit to Key West, Fla., from the Carolina to the bigger cities of Texas, besides thousands of them which are doing excellent duty in cities of the inland states.

The Jewett's biggest business is with the elevated railroads of Chicago, New York and Brooklyn, but the fact that such cities as San Francisco, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Texas, and other big cities are buying the Newark-made cars for the surface roads indicates that they make just as good street cars as cars for the elevated.

LICKING COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WHO ANSWER CRITICISMS ON INFIRMARY MANAGEMENT

(Continued from Page One.) last year $286.70 for drugs, all of which was bought upon requisition of the physician in charge, Dr. Kramer, who was thought a good enough physician to be made the chief physician of the Ohio penitentiary by the state of Ohio; since then Dr. Dillon has had charge.

They say, "the farm is being let run down," there has been expended within the last year, $279.75 for fencing material.

They say, "there is not enough help." The monthly payroll for last year amounts to $4,180.67.

They say, "there is a rosy cheeked girl there without a nose," and they deplore the fact of this rosy cheeked girl having no nose. They say, "we saw this young lady and know whereof we speak."

They say, "we also found an 8-month-old baby boy in same ward," and the tears flow for the baby. Such wonderful investigations should have been conducted that these children have been bequeathed by depraved, vile and vicious mothers to the clean lived, honest, hard working taxpayer to support. Brought into the world reeking with the vilest disease, there being no place or institution where they have a legal right to be.

So far as spittoons and other small articles are concerned the superintendent is given $50 per month for incidental expenses, which he expends, or has so far, for whatever he thinks is needed in and around the institution. The board has not up to this time refused to allow any item that has appeared on his monthly report on this fund.

We are not claiming that the infirmaries buildings are all they should be, but we do not believe there is a dozen of the 92 inmates who ever died, by their own labor, clothed, fed, sleep and house themselves as well as or as sanitary as they are being clothed, fed and housed at the present time.

Our conception of the office of county commissioner is that our paramount duty is to watch closely the interests of the taxpayer. We have had no taxpayers complaining because their taxes were too low. If it is true that the taxpayers want a new infirmary built or want this board to spend $5,000, $10,000 or $20,000 of their money repairing the old buildings let them file petitions with us setting forth their wishes, or asking that the matter be submitted to a vote of the people if they want to spend $200,000 for an up-to-date infirmary and hospital.

This it seems to us would be a much more rational way than to blame this board for the arrangements, architecture and locations of these buildings which were built before our time.

PLENTY COINED IN PHILA., BUT WHO'S GETTING IT ALL?

Philadelphia, Jan. 3.—Almost $2,000,000 more money was coined in the United States mint in this city during 1913 than during 1912. There was a general increase in the coinage of almost all metals, but most of the increase represents the manufacture of the new Buffalo nickels. In the annual report of John H. Landis, superintendent of the mint which was compiled yesterday, it is shown that during 1913 there were 160,067,626 pieces of money coined from all metals, amounting to $20,182,841. During 1912 the coinage was 121,653,122 pieces and the money value $18,342,483. Last year there were 23,422,611 worth of nickels struck, while in the year previous the nickels amounted to $1,311,835.

RADIUM IN TUBE WORKS CURES OF DREAD CANCER

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Jan. 3.—A tube containing radium, the existence of which was unknown to the public, as well as many members of the medical profession has been successfully used by Dr. Charles Russell Hancock, a surgeon, in treating three patients in the last three weeks. Dr. Hancock last night told of his use of the tube which, he said, belonged to Dr. George E. Thompson, a bacteriologist of Bloomfield, N. J.

The tube was purchased by Dr. Hancock from Mrs. Curie when the Curies had discovered radium and had only four tubes of it. Dr. Hancock recalled having heard Dr. Thompson tell of his purchase from Mrs. Curie when Dr. Howard A. Kelley, the Baltimore surgeon, recently lectured here on his experiments with radium. Dr. Hancock immediately communicated with Dr. Thompson who consented to loan the tube for treatment of patients.

The first case treated by Dr. Hancock was that of a young girl one of whose eyes had been removed because of cancer, only to have the cancer recur despite the operation. Three radium treatments removed the inflammation from the cancer and the pain. The second case was that of a woman on whom an operation had been performed for cancer of the breast. The cancer has decreased in size and the pain has lessened.

A crying child, the third patient, went peacefully to sleep under the radium treatment, and has not since experienced pain from the cancerous growth. Before that the child had not known relief from pain for a long time.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and thick with a simple mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's treatment. And folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we won't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The millions of Cascaret users never have Headache, Constipation, Biliouness or Sick Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now. Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excessive bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

No odds how sick, headachy, bilious and constipated you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.

WILL ERECT NEW THEATRE IN THIS CITY

Plans have been perfected for the erection of a handsome new theater for this city and work on the same will begin immediately, providing climatic conditions do not interfere. The William Prout property has been purchased by a syndicate composed of W. S. Butterfield of Batavia, Mich., William C. Grace of Kalamazoo, Mich., L. H. LaFayette, David W. Maurer of LaFayette, Ind., and W. B. Mount of this city. Mr. Butterfield is the well known Michigan theatrical man and controls twenty-four theaters in Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa, and the other gentlemen have been associated with Mr. Butterfield financially in a number of his ventures.

The new building will be of steel construction stucco and brick front and will cost approximately $55,000. The theatrical architect who furnished the plans and specifications states that it can be completed and ready for occupancy by May 15 of the present year.

There will be two store rooms on the lower floor of the theater each twenty-feet wide and fifty feet deep and separating them will be a lobby twenty feet wide. The foyer immediately in the rear will be sixty feet wide with a depth of ten feet. There will be toilet and dressing rooms for ladies and a handsomely furnished smoking room for the gentlemen. The auditorium proper will be 60 by 80 feet and will have a seating capacity of 1350. There will be four entrances from the foyer, two for the side aisles and two for the center and middle aisles. All state regulations for the construction of the building will be complied with.

There will be 23 rows of seats in the auditorium with 27 seats to the row and the seats will be either 21 or 22 inches in width, making them very comfortable. The seating capacity of the lower floor will be 615. There will be no gallery but a handsome balcony with an entrance from the mezzanine floor with a sixty-foot foyer having a ten foot depth, the seating capacity of which will be about 500. The seating capacity of the mezzanine boxes will be 208. The stage will have an opening of 32 feet and a depth of 33 feet from the proscenium to the curtain wall, the top running 36 feet. The site which the theatrical syndicate has purchased is 60 feet and one inch frontage with a depth of 198 feet and the theater will cover the entire width running depth of 167 feet.

The policy of the new house will be Keith vaudeville with a daily matinee and two evening performances the first to begin at 7:30 o'clock and the second at 9:15. There will be two ladies' day matinees at reduced prices during the week and one for school children every Saturday at which the prices will also be reduced. The night prices will be 10, 15 and 25 and 35 cents for the mezzanine boxes.

The booking of the theater will be through the big United Booking Offices, with which the Keith vaudeville is affiliated. Musical comedies and tabloids will also be played in the arrangement of one tabloid to every three vaudeville shows. A change of bill will occur twice a week, one show opening Monday afternoon and the other Thursday afternoon.

Every druggist sells Resinol because doctors in every corner of the United States have prescribed them regularly for eighteen years.

The erection of the new vaudeville house will undoubtedly meet with much favor and will not only add much to the business interests of East Main street but will also furnish plenty amusement for the theater going people of the city.

The building of the theater on East Main street was made possible by George Sprague of this city who purchased the Prout property, which has a hundred foot frontage. Mr. Sprague then sold sixty feet of the frontage extending the entire depth of the lot to the syndicate. Mr. Sprague is not ready to announce at the present time his plans regarding his acquisition of the East Main street lot.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with the backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue coated, and when the weather is hot you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

BENEFIT FOR LIBRARY FUND AT GRANVILLE

Granville, Jan. 2.—A splendid concert was given in the Opera House Friday evening at 8 o'clock, the title of which was, "The Story of the Christmas Carol." The affair was given as a benefit for the library fund, and was under the auspices of the Fortnightly club of Granville. Mrs. Charles B. White had charge of the chorus work and arrangement of the program.

Some of the local talent was ably supported by a chorus of ninety, composed of the young people of Newark and Granville, who have been under the personal supervision of Mrs. White for the past three weeks, and have progressed rapidly.

The concert was composed of a number of French, Italian, Bohemian, German, Welsh and English songs, which proved to be a very interesting program, especially to those who are interested in music, as it enabled them to hear a review of the principal songs of the various nations.

Those who assisted Mrs. White were Mrs. Jacob Rohrer, soprano; Miss Evangelina Davies, soprano; Mrs. Carl Ashton, contralto; Mr. William P. Ullman, tenor; Mr. Samuel Pringle, bass; Miss Bessie Larkin, accompanist, and a juvenile chorus, composed of Newark and Granville young people.

From the time the doors were opened yesterday afternoon until last evening hundreds of people viewed the attractive exhibit of the Norfolk and Western Railway exhibit, from Virginia and North Carolina, in room 16 Arcade—next to Western Union.
The fine display of apples, pictures of natural bridge and beautiful mountain scenery created much comment. The peanuts, which are shown in the vase just as they come out of the soil, interested the children very much. One of the most surprising things noted by visitors was the large variety of crops. Corn, wheat, oats, rye, clovers, cotton, peaches, pears, plums, and many other products.
The exhibit will be open tonight. Time spent examining this display is worth while as it is interesting and instructive.—Adv.

HAD SALT-RHEUM FOR MANY YEARS

Doctors Failed to Cure Him—Goodhair Soap Did the Work in Three Days.

"For a long time I have suffered and been annoyed with a breaking out on the back of my hands, the doctors called it salt rheum. My hands were in such an awful condition I was ashamed to have them seen, so I did not have a pair of old gloves on I would keep my hands in my pockets to prevent undue attention. Consulted several doctors and tried a number of remedies without any good results. Mr. J. I. Bolton of this city gave me two little samples of Goodhair Soap, requesting me to try it. The first application of the latter of this wonderful Soap gave me benefit and in three days' time my hands were entirely well."

Currency Reforms and the Bankers

No matter how much security against panics the new currency law may provide, the success of any such law depends on good banking methods.

The new law is supposed to provide a remedy for the selfish hoarding of currency. This was a big factor in the 1907 downfall. But there are certain evils of speculative banking that no currency law, no matter how well devised, can stop. A leading banker said recently that in most bad bank failures it will be found that too much money was lent to directors and other officers for personal enterprises.

There are probably too many banks in the country, and competition between them is often very sharp. The idea of taking in a dollar and loaning it over and over again indefinitely to different people, all paying a good rate of interest, is very attractive to many of our financial geniuses.

In some places it seems as if the banks had a runner at the railroad station to meet newcomers on their arrival into town, and get the first bid for their business. Certain it is that when banks get to competing sharply, vague and indefinite hopes are often accepted as security. By and by these hopes are brought to a show down, and a bank's assets are found to be impaired. If these methods prevail over a considerable section, the banks will go down in succession, and there will be a panic currency law or not.

Only a certain type of men are fit to be bankers. They must be persons who hold very responsible, definite, and conscientious ideas about holding other people's money. The new law gives the bankers new powers in dealing with frightened capital. But the need for sound judgment and sense of moral responsibility is thereby greater than ever.

On Second Thought

Do not waste your sympathy on the man who never had it. Pity, instead, the one who had it once and lost it.

Jack London, whose adventures with John Barleycorn recently have appeared in book form, is believed to be the only consumer who ever succeeded in marketing booze at a profit.

In spite of the frightful manner in which we are all led to believe they are imposed upon, women live longer than men.

By the time a man is forty, he begins to realize that he will never be president. By the time he is fifty he knows he never will be rich.

City people who move to the farm must not expect too much in the way of entertainment and amusement. On a farm the excitement for the day is over as soon as the dog chases the cat into a tree.

Hard work is the best and kindest fate life has in store for a man. The man who has the leisure and the inclination to do much thinking eventually goes crazy on some subject.

Generally speaking, the polite man is the one who wishes to sell you something.

SPLENDID WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY FEDERATED CLUBS

The Christmas festivities at Riverside Social Center on Tuesday evening marked an unusual event to the children of the neighborhood of Riverside school house. There was a tree gaily bedecked and a program given by Miss Alice Smith.

Rev. Lewis P. Franklin of Trinity church interested and amused the children while he instructed them regarding the true spirit of Christmas. Guests from the neighborhood—men and women—and representatives from the organizations which belong to the City Federation, were present. Mrs. Edward Kibler, untiring in her zeal, was assisted by Mrs. A. S. Mitchell, president of the Federation, in purchasing and preparing the tree and gifts, while the generosity on part of the various clubs, societies, and church organizations, plus gifts of money given by individuals, made this festive occasion possible. Seventy-five children were present, each one receiving a stocking of candy, an orange and a gift.

Although the establishment of a Social Centre looking primarily toward the needs of foreigners, seemed somewhat hopeless little more than six months ago, considering the fact that the City Federation of Women's clubs practically worked without a cent, a review of the work accomplished proves that work and faith going hand in hand have accomplished a great deal. Already a spirit of "clean up" has been manifested in the neighborhood: a playground equipment has been provided for the children, which will be placed in the school yard as soon as weather conditions will permit; every Saturday afternoon sewing classes, in which little girls are taught to sew are held in the school house, and on Sunday afternoons, there are meetings for men, women and children for which club women provide instructive entertainment without obtruding their own religion upon foreigners who already are wellfounded in their own faith.

The Social Centre is Christian in spirit but not denominational or sectarian in character. It is neither Catholic nor Protestant, but has for its purpose: the betterment of living conditions; training for citizenship; the teaching of the English language to foreigners; the teaching of American home-making; of sewing, care of the sick, etc., to foreign women, and to all others who want such instruction.

Thrice blessed is he who can't remember the things he ought to forget.

The only man who doesn't mind disappointment is the man who expects nothing.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 3.—[Special.]—It will come home to the American people in course of time that Great Britain did not make the Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the simple reason of helping the United States construct a waterway uniting the two oceans. It will be found that the English statesmen have always been looking ahead in all foreign affairs. English statesmen did not put a provision in that treaty stopping America from fortifying the canal for the fun of it, but because Great Britain intended to enforce that provision if the time ever came when it was to her interest to do so. And the canal tolls were not made equal among all nations for any other purpose than to make the shipping of the United States pay as much as all other nations when it passed through the United States canal. After awhile our statesmen may find that whenever they are dealing with English statesmen they should keep their eyes open.

How Many Cars?

Wandering through an issue of the Congressional Record of the days just before the recess I happened to notice that there was a long discussion as to whether the Democrats did the Republicans a grievous wrong in excluding them from the conference on the currency bill. There were bitter lamentations on the Republican side and delving into past records to show what an extraordinary thing had happened in legislative circles. And yet, ten days or two weeks after the final act no one cared; no one asked how the currency act was passed. People were interested in how it was going to work out and its effect on business.

In Real Need of Rest.

It was the corps of official reporters of congress who needed rest. They needed a holiday more than senators or representatives. They had to stay on the job all the time. The "pingpong" adjournments of the senate gave the senate reporters a little time, but the manner in which Jim Mann held the house in session day after day when there was no quorum compelled the attendance of the reporters, whether there were forty or 400 members present. And these official reporters have had mighty little in the way of vacations since the days of Roosevelt.

Fast Talkers.

Speaking of the reporters, I asked one of the old timers about the fast talkers in the house, and he says that there are quite a number who can speed up on occasions. There are about forty or fifty men in the house who can talk as fast as Littlefield of Maine, and he set the limit for the time he served, because he could go ahead for hours. Before him H. U. Johnson had the record.

Metz of New York is now the fastest talker, but he goes for only a short time. Then there is young Murray of Massachusetts, who can talk long and fast. The others swift of speech are Ferris and Carter of Oklahoma, J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, Tribble of Georgia, Stephens of Texas and Sisson of Mississippi. All of these are frequently in the debates.

The official reporters have a theory that the increased membership of the house tends to fast talking, as so many members want to have their "say."

Old Fight Renewed.

It is apparent that the old fight between the representatives of western states and the forest service will be renewed in the consideration of the agricultural bill. The western men still insist that the forest reserves are too large and that many settlers are deprived of homes on that account.

How Times Change.

Looking over an old copy of the Congressional Record recently, I saw it in black and white where La Follette, then a member of the house, supported Tom Reed in his tyrannical throttling of the minority; also where he was a part of the committee that made up the McKinley tariff, one of our greatest protective measures; also that he stood with the solid majority of Republicans all the time. But that was nearly a quarter of a century ago. And times have changed.

Knoxville, Reserve City

If Knoxville, Tenn., should be made a reserve city under the new banking plan it would be on account of the long and lasting friendship existing between Secretary McAdoo and Congressman Austin. While it is not likely that Knoxville will be given such distinguished preferment, it is a good guess that the city will get anything else that is within reach.

Office Seekers Persistent.

The more jobs provided the larger the crop of office seekers. Taking the deputy collectors out of the civil service, keeping the income tax collectors out of the civil service and the employees under the new currency act, has only whetted the appetite of the hungry Democrats.

LOST IN A BIG CITY

In New York Thousands of Persons Vanish Every Year.

MYSTERY OF THE MISSING.

What May Be the Fate of the Many the Police Fail to Find and Whose Dead Bodies Do Not Arrive at the Morgue is an Unsolved Enigma.

More than 4,500 persons are reported to the New York police every year as missing. Of these about 3,500 are residents of the city, while the remainder are visitors.

The New Yorkers who vanish from their homes are reported to the police stations in the local precincts, and these cases are handled by the precinct authorities. But the reports of missing visitors, regardless of where made originally, ultimately go to the bureau of missing persons at police headquarters.

Information from official sources shows that minors constitute approximately two-thirds of the New York residents stated to be missing annually. The remaining one-third is composed chiefly of men.

It is estimated that more than one-half of the 3,500 are located by the police, dead or alive, or return to their homes soon after disappearance, notification of the return being sent to the officials. Of the remainder it is estimated that at least one-half ultimately arrive back home in safety, but no notification of the fact is sent to the police.

This leaves about 850 persons per year who utterly vanish. What becomes of them is one of the mysteries of the metropolis. They disappear as though they were so many bubbles. Some of them doubtless kill themselves or are killed, their bodies never being discovered. Some of them, it may be set down for certain, run away from their matrimonial mates. But what the fate is of the great mass of them no man can say.

Of the large number of minors who figure each year as missing, police officials state that the big majority are youths and girls between the ages of fifteen and twenty. They are often wage earners, disgruntled with conditions at home, either because they have to give what they consider too large a proportion of their wages to the family exchequer or because they think their parents too strict with them in the matter of pleasure seeking.

Of the 1,000 residents of other places for whom the police are annually asked to look, a considerable percentage are men who have come to New York to find relaxation from the workaday grind in the gayeties of Broadway. They get into the whirl of things rather more than they intended and are lost to their friends' view for a few days. Ultimately most of these wanderers in the fields of frivolity turn up all right, with a bit of headache, perhaps, and a determination not to seek relaxation quite so persistently on the next New York visit.

Other strangers to the city get separated from their friends in the subway or on the elevated or get lost in the streets, and then the police are asked to find the missing ones. Immigrants in transit from European countries to inland points in the United States frequently wander off from the parties to which they are attached and have to be found through the medium of the police.

In the course of a year the police receive scores of letters from foreign countries inquiring about friends or relatives of the writers who were last heard from in New York. From Zanzibar and from India, from Australia and from Egypt, from Europe, from South America, come letters of inquiry.

The proportion of these nonresidents of New York never to be heard of again as estimated by the police is about the same as in the case of New York citizens. That is, something more than one-half of the 1,000 are located by the police or return to their friends, the police being so notified. About one-half of the remainder finally reach their friends all right, it is estimated, the police not being notified. This leaves approximately 250 visitors to New York who vanish yearly without anything whatever being known of their fate. With the 850 New Yorkers who absolutely disappear, there is thus a total in round figures of 1,100 persons who every twelve months are lost to sight as utterly as though they had stopped behind a magic curtain.

The bureau of unidentified dead has made a collection of the marks put on clothing by all laundries in New York. When a body is found which has no means of identification except through laundry marks the marks are compared with those on file in the bureau. If the victim's clothes prove to have been laundered in New York the laundry is visited, and from examination of its books it is usually possible to trace the identity of the dead person.

Names of tailors and of clothing manufacturers also lead to many identifications. Tattoo marks have in several instances meant identification. A majority of the unidentified dead are found in the water. Most of them are doubtless suicides. Others of the unidentified cases are due to street car accidents, suicide by gas and sudden death in the street from natural causes. Photographs are taken of all bodies and prove of much aid in making identification. In occasional instances identification from photographs has resulted even after burial in potter's field—New York Times.

WHY GRIP IS DANGEROUS.

It is an Epidemic Catarrhal Fever Caused by a Bacillus that Generally Leaves the Patient Weak After the Acute Stage has Passed.

Grip Patients Grateful to Peruna, the Expectorant Tonic.

Do not make the error of regarding grip as an exaggerated cold. There is a big difference between the two. Grip is an epidemic disease that poisons the vital organs. When a person has grip, the air passages are alive with millions of bacilli poisoning the blood. The infected person feels tired and exhausted.

It requires a good tonic laxative to keep the body of the patient as strong as possible to counteract the effect of the poisons created by the grip bacillus. An expectorant tonic with some laxative qualities is the safest remedy. Such is Peruna. Beware especially of coal tar powders or tablets because they lessen the vitality of the patient.

There is no specific for the grip. Peruna has been used with good success in former grip epidemics. Indications point to the return of grip this winter.

Ask Your Druggist for Free Peruna Lucky Day Almanac for 1914.

Do not fail to read the experience of former grip patients with Peruna. Pastor's Wife Had Case of Grip. Rev. George A. E. Troutman, 2218 East Ninth St., Kansas City, Mo., writes: "My wife and I are strong believers in Peruna. My wife was cured from a severe case of a gripe, and we feel that the least we can do is to gratefully acknowledge the merit of Peruna."

Could Get No Relief from Grip. Mrs. Gentry Gates, 8219 First Ave., East Lake, Ala., writes: "I had a bad case of a gripe. I tried several kinds of medicine, but would get no relief. I tried Peruna, and it cured me. I can safely say that it is a fine medicine. I have used it in our family often and find it to be good."

Took Peruna for Attack of Grip. Mrs. Charles E. Wells, Sr., 230 South St., Delaware, Ohio, writes: "After a severe attack of a gripe I took Peruna and found it a good tonic."

—AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

Good Printing is as essential to your business as a clean store. Let us show you

The HOME Building Association Co. NEWARK, OHIO.

The Annual Budget

In all countries where the finances are closely managed, and in well managed business enterprises each year, at the beginning of the year, there is prepared an annual budget of estimate of revenue and disbursements, for guidance in keeping expenses within the income.

The same idea, coupled with a definite plan for saving, should be applied to your individual finances.

Adjust your expenditures to your income so as to have a balance to save.

Then place those savings in this Old Home Building Association where they will be protected by first mortgages and our large reserve fund, and your finances will indeed be on a sound basis.

We earnestly recommend this plan to every thinking man, now, just as the new year approaches.

With Ohio Club Women

Conducted by Mrs. Charles S. Rockhill, Chairman of the Publicity Department of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

A Summary—And a Request.

In reviewing the work of this department, during the year of its existence, a query arises as to its worth. Has it in even a small degree accomplished the purpose for which it was established? Have we aroused Ohio women to greater interest in the work which may be done through united action on the part of club women and have we interested women who are not active workers?

We have endeavored to emphasize, through recounting work done by clubs all over the state, the influence women have in the civic, educational and moral improvement of their respective communities, and to stimulate to renewed activity those who have become somewhat indifferent.

The immensity of the work of club women and the far reaching effects of their efforts to help humanity have been for lack of proper publicity, too little known to women themselves. Realizing the need of a wider dissemination of what clubs are doing this press bureau of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs was organized last year and there has been every month sent—with the exception of July and August—copy averaging 10,000 words a month to Ohio newspapers, reaching all the club women of the state each week with this news service. We wish here to publicly acknowledge the debt we owe the newspapers of Ohio for their uniform courtesy, for their kindly attention to our requests, and for the great interest shown by them in the work of club women.

Ohio is the first state in the General Federation to have a plan for newspaper publicity where a chain of newspapers regularly carry official news of state work under the direction of a state officer not a member of the newspaper staff. The plan is now being adopted in other states.

We have endeavored to bring into closer relations the club women of Ohio by acquainting them with the work being done in other cities and towns, by carrying news of the work of the executive board to the individual members of the organization and by promulgating the aims and ideals of the General Federation.

Have we succeeded—shall we continue this work? If you wish this service continued, please write to the editor of the newspaper in your community receiving this service and tell him you desire to see this news each week in his paper.

Teachers'-Parents' Association

Organized in Mansfield, Ohio. As a result of an inspiring talk given recently by Louise Armstrong, a prominent educator of Cincinnati, at a meeting of the women's clubs of Mansfield, there has been formed a Teachers'-Parents' Association to set in conjunction with the school authorities of that city.

The purpose of this unique association is to become better acquainted with those in charge of the public schools and their methods, and also that the parents may know just what kind of work their children are doing. Officers were elected, the president from among the parents, and the vice president and secretary representing the teachers, and an executive committee appointed consisting of one member of the faculty of the High school, and one of the parents.

At this meeting for organization, there were several speeches on the work done in the schools, with suggestions as to co-operation on the part of the parents and a short talk by the superintendent, on the school situation in general.

Light refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent becoming acquainted. The High school orchestra furnished the music for the occasion, and their good work elicited many complimentary remarks from the parents, many of whom had never before heard them play.

This is an exceedingly interesting phase of the educational problem planned by this progressive little city, and we trust that the results will be all that are anticipated.

Mental Aberration

Preceding Christmas. This little story by Frances L. Garside, which appeared in an exchange so graphically describes the before-Christmas state of mind of most women, that we feel confident our readers will enjoy it as much as we did.

"I am buying only sensible presents this year," said the woman who is the heroine of this little tale, and then she went down in her shopping bag for the money to pay for a little thimble, when, when would you work a saw back and forth for fully a quarter of a minute.

She bought this for Johnny Smith and when she reached the next counter she forgot she had wiped him off her list and that it was time to buy for Aunt Eliza, and bought a top that will spin three minutes. "That," she said, "is for Johnny Smith."

She duplicated her gifts all day and reached home that night with ten express wagons for decrepit kin and lounging robes for relatives who never lounge, and manicure sets where she had intended in anti-buying wisdom to give carpet sweepers.

She packed and wrapped Christmas boxes all evening, and when she ate supper the most tasted like Merry Christmas stickers, and she hated the plate because it was white, and so is tissue paper, and before she broke her bread she mechanically tied a Christmas ribbon around it.

After supper she arose with the baby in her arms and went to her room and put it to bed. Half an hour later her husband walked in, and found his wife in a heavy sleep on the floor, while on the bed lay a big bundle done in white tissue paper, and wrapped in red ribbon, with a bunch of holly on top. A card attached read: "A small token of my love, with wishes for a Merry Christmas."

But where was the baby? The husband searched the room for it, and had about decided the neighbors had borrowed it when the tissue paper bundle stirred.

With a cry of fright he tore off the red and green ribbons, unwrapped yards of white tissue paper and found the baby inside!

Its lips were fastened together with Christmas stickers, and twigs of mistletoe were sticking from its ears, while more Merry Christmas stickers pasted its eyes shut, and a Christmas card was laid on its breast.

The mother didn't intend to harm her baby; don't think that for a moment. In a fit of worry and absent-mindedness, brought on by the distribution of thirty-seven presents, which must go by mail in the morning, twenty-two that must be sent by express not later than day after tomorrow, and forty-four that must be ready by Christmas morn, twenty-one of which must yet be bought, three were unfinished, and eleven were yet to be begun, she had wrapped up her baby, and pasted it with Merry Christmas stickers, and had fallen asleep while waiting for the express wagon.

There is a warning to this little tale. It is to the husbands, that they watch their wives carefully, and be tender and forgiving when they find their breakfast eggs tied in ribbons, and Merry Christmas stickers and holly served as breakfast food, for it is the season when no woman with the genuine Christmas spirit is accountable.

"Movies" Fine for Publicity Work.

The Woman Suffrage party hit upon a fine publicity plan when it decided to use moving-picture shows for propaganda work. An encouraging beginning was made at New Orleans. It proved successful beyond expectation from every point of view. An unusually large audience applauded heartily when the suffrage briefs were thrown upon the screen.

"If mother can raise the candidate, why can't she vote for him?" "Workmen should demand the vote for workingwomen," and other suffrage sermons will be sure to get some people thinking who have not thought seriously on the subject before.

State Club Starts Endowment Fund.

Louisiana club women have voted to raise a state endowment fund. As the club year opens, the matter will be taken up and plans devised for getting together some part of this pledge.

In Texas each club town has assumed a certain part of the obligation for a state endowment fund.

100,000 People—No Library.

One hundred thousand people—and no public library. The reference is not to a congested foreign quarter in one of our great cities; nor to a new town in the British Northwest; nor to a mountain region of sparse settlements and down-at-the-heels farms. The reference is to the capital city of one of the original thirteen colonies of the American commonwealth.

No wonder the civic organizations of Richmond, Va., are beginning to take up the matter in earnest.—Survey.

Club Notes.

A committee for the protection of girls will be organized by Mrs. F. G. Sanborn, president of the woman's department of the Panama-Pacific exposition. This work is regarded as very important when it is remembered that 6000 girls were lost during the Chicago World's Fair. Club women in San Francisco are actively interested in the woman's department of the exposition.

A social center in every public school is the plan of the clubwomen of Syracuse, N. Y. Plans are being made to throw open the doors of the school building for neighborhood meetings and entertainments on several evenings of each week. The school officials are co-operating with the various forces in favor of social centers.

New York State has a $25,000 endowment fund. With the interest it is sending girls to the State Agricultural college of Cornell University.

By educating mothers through social centers, the Civic club of Philadelphia believes that many juvenile crimes will be averted, because the mother will take proper precautions to safeguard their children.

May Riley Smith, president of the Sorosis club, New York, does all the housework of her four-story home and says she would make her own dresses if she had the time. "Women will never know full freedom until they have learned to do without servants," says this woman, who is a noted poet as well as the leader of Sorosis.

Society

The Sigma Chi fraternity entertained with a delightful informal dance Wednesday evening at the Chapter house in Granville. Those from Newark were: Misses Hannah Sullivan, Grace Jones, Katherine Sedwick, Leontine Moore, Mary Mahlon, Messrs. Harold Smucker, Charles Starrett Clifford Sherburn and Elmer Schimmer.

JUGGLER WILL START BUSINESS IN THIS CITY

From juggler cannon balls and U. S. government regulation projectiles, to cleaning and prodding clothing, is some jump, yet that is the choice of Paul Perry after years of touring the principal cities of the world in his seasonal juggling act. Perry has leased a room at 31 South Second street, and announces he will open a cleaning and pressing establishment January 8.

Perry recently appeared at the Orpheum theatre, where his act "went big." He is taking up the new line of work with which he has been familiar in past years, because, he says, cannon ball juggling is "too much heavy work," and he needs a rest from it.

ABOLITION OF INTERLOCKING DIRECTORATES

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Jan. 3.—The announcement of the retirement of J. P. Morgan and four of his partners from thirty directorships in twenty-seven corporations and Mr. Morgan's reference to the change in public sentiment in regard to directorships, has called attention to the fact that five important recommendations of the Pulo committee were already being put into effect in advance of legislation requiring them.

They include the abandonment of fiscal agency agreements, such as existed between the New Haven and Morgan & Company; the abolition of interlocking directorates; the abolition of voting trusts; reforms in the stock exchange, and reforms in the clearing house.

Whether Mr. Morgan will decide to withdraw from the directorate of the United States steel corporation was the subject of a great deal of speculation today. The general opinion was that as the so-called steel trust was the greatest of the Morgan creations and was considered by the elder Morgan the crowning achievement of his financial career, his son will consider it his duty to remain identified with it in an active way, especially until the government suit has been decided one way or the other.

However, the Morgan firm was no less actively identified with the financial development of the New York Central lines, for which Mr. Morgan was the banking sponsor throughout the greater part of his career.

His connection with it dated from the time of Commodore Vanderbilt and during the time of William H. Vanderbilt, it was through Mr. Morgan's influence that English investors placed enormous sums of money in the securities of the road.

The withdrawal of J. P. Morgan from the New York Central directorate was one of the biggest surprises of the announcement.

J. P. Morgan's friends say that he has been not only deeply impressed by the change in public sentiment during the last few years, but he has been deeply grieved over the criticism of the firm in connection with the affairs of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company.

Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific railroad company in commenting today on the Morgan action said:

"I think strong bankers on railroad boards are very desirable—but it all depends on who represents the railroads on the board."

A. Barton Hepburn, chairman of the Chase National bank, expressed the opinion that interlocking directorates were a good thing so long as they did not result in unlawful monopoly.

It Certainly Was.

A DIP INTO SPACE

From Our Little Solar System to the Far Starry Limits.

SOME MARVELOUS DISTANCES

The Stellar Universe as We Know It and What It Means in the Matter of Miles to Reach Its Boundaries From the Center of Our Own Sun.

It is worth while making an effort to picture to ourselves the vast extent of the starry system in which we reside. Having gained some faint notion of the extent of the lesser solar system, which occupies a small corner of the stellar system, we must work outward from that beginning. Let us take for our unit of measurement the space which separates the earth from the sun and let the 92,000,000 miles of this distance be represented in our minds by a single inch. In proportion the sun itself must be pictured by a tiny ball less than one hundredth part of an inch in diameter, while our earth must be a mere speck less than one ten-thousandth of an inch in diameter. And this little sun and this minute earth must be just an inch asunder.

Following out the same idea, Mercury and Venus, being closer to the sun than we are, have to be less than an inch away from him, while Jupiter will be five inches off, Saturn will be ten inches off, Uranus will be over nineteen inches off, Neptune will be almost thirty inches off. Then the solar system as a whole, leaving only out of the question certain comets which travel farther, will be inclosed in a circle less than two yards in diameter.

The question arises next, What will be the proportionate size of the stellar system on this same scale of measurement? If the solar system is to be comprised with a hoop not two yards across how wide a space should we allow to the surrounding system of stars, "our universe"? How near will be the nearest of outlying stars? And the answer is sufficiently startling. If the sun is reckoned to be one inch away from our earth, if Neptune is reckoned to be less than three feet away from the sun, then on the same scale the star which lies closest of all outer stars in the whole universe to us, Alpha Centauri by name, must be reckoned as lying at a distance of about three and a half miles. And between the two—nothing; at least nothing in the shape of a star. An occasional comet may lag slowly along in the darkness, finding its way from one sun system to another, and dark bodies, cooled suns, may possibly float here or there unseen by us, but of stars radiant with heat and light none is found in that wide area.

Astronomical writers sometimes talk of stars "in the vicinity" of the sun, and this is what is meant by "vicinity." Think of the distances implied. Our whole solar system is first brought down into a small circle two yards across—every inch in those yards standing for more than 90,000,000 miles—and then on every side and above and below is an encompassing void of three and a half miles, every inch of those miles again representing more than 90,000,000 miles. And then we come upon one gleaming star. Only one quite so near. Another star in the sun's "vicinity," known as 61 Cygni, would lie at a distance of seven miles, and the brilliant Sirius would be over ten miles off. Others must be placed at distances of twenty miles, fifty miles, 100 miles. It is easy to start with a list of these figures. It is not easy to say where one should stop. That the starry system has limits we do not doubt, but to define those limits is not possible. On such a scale as is given above those limits certainly would not lie within a distance of 100 miles nor of 1,000 miles.

It is believed that some dim stars, barely to be detected, may be 10,000 times as far away as our sun's nearest neighbor, Alpha Centauri, and this at once gives, even on our much reduced scale, a line from the center of 35,000 miles. Suppose that the limits of the stellar system lay somewhere about there. Thirty-five thousand miles each way from the center would mean a diameter for the whole of 70,000 miles. Imagine a starry system 70,000 miles across from side to side, each inch in those miles representing 92,000,000 of real miles, and somewhere in the midst of it our small solar system, just two yards across, separated from all other stars by a wide blank of three or four miles.

That would be stupendous enough. But we have no reason whatever for supposing that the limits of our universe do lie there. The true boundaries of the stellar system may be twice as far, four times as far, ten times as far. We do not even know with certainty that our solar system is placed anywhere near its center, though this seems rather likely. Far off as the boundary reaches in one direction, it may reach much further in another direction.—Chambers' Journal.

An Ant Illusion.
The idea of mutual aid among ants is pronounced by M. Cornetz, a French entomologist, to be an illusion. In his observations, a single ant drags a load rapidly toward the nest, but when others take hold of the object they pull in different directions, and slow progress is made.

The gain of lying is nothing else but not to be trusted any more, nor to be believed when we say the truth.—Sir Walter Scott.

Chicago Grain Situation.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Jan. 3.—Interest on change today centered in a sharp decline in the price of corn. January delivery, which closed last night at 6 1/4, opened at 6 1/4 and fell to 6 1/4, and within an hour had fallen virtually an additional 2c to 6 1/4. Active selling took place in every corner regarding the corn. The heavy stock here was said to be finding no adequate outlet. Corn values started 1/4c to 1/2c lower and went down steadily without interruption. The declines in May and December deliveries, however, averaged only about 1/4c.

Oats weakened with corn, declining though were not of a radical kind. Provisions weakened under free selling and heavy figures regarding stocks on hand. First sales varied from the same as last night to 12 1/2c and later went down with much more.

Wheat showed strength as a result of reports that there was increased speculative buying at Liverpool. Thrashing reports from Argentina continued unfavorable and there was a new wave of heavy rains in Argentina, insuring a huge crop in that country.

Corn values started 1/4c to 1/2c lower and went down steadily without interruption. The declines in May and December deliveries, however, averaged only about 1/4c.

Don't lay awake tonight, struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN FOR MR. WEAVER

Benj Weaver, aged 55 years, a well known farmer residing near St. Louisville, dropped dead of heart failure at his home Friday morning just after leaving the barn where he had been talking to his son, Harry Weaver. Though Dr. L. L. Marriott was called immediately, death had ensued before he reached the home and efforts to revive the stricken man failed.

Mr Weaver had been suffering from heart trouble for some time, though his condition was not regarded as particularly serious. A week ago he contracted a severe cold but it is the opinion of the physician who treated him at the time that this had nothing to do with his death.

Mr Weaver was born in Washington township less than a mile distant from his late home, March 27, 1859. He has always made his home in the vicinity of St. Louisville, where he followed farming as a vocation. He leaves a widow and three children, Harry Weaver at home, Mrs. Ida Riley of Centennial, and Mrs. Arthur Haas of Newark. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge at St. Louisville and of the Lutheran church of the same place.

Funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Lutheran church, Rev. Mr. Gillilan officiating. Interment in the St. Louisville cemetery.

WOULD PLANT A MUNICIPAL TREE IN PUBLIC PARK

If permission can be obtained, laboring men of Newark will plan a big demonstration and program accompanying the formal planting of a municipal evergreen Christmas tree in the court house park next Arbor day.

This course has been determined upon by leaders in Newark Trades and Labor Council, which has affixed its hearty endorsement to the municipal Christmas tree idea introduced here for the first time last week. The labor body has endorsed the plan as one worthy of perpetuation and has registered its commendation of the doings of the Christmas tree committee in behalf of the poor children of Newark, said William M. Morgan of the labor organization Friday.

The municipal tree will be removed as soon as the wires can be taken down, which will be within two or three days. Nick Emmert, union teamster, living in Jefferson street, will take the tree away and destroy it, since it is in no condition for further preservation.

Ultimate destruction of the entire crop of evergreen trees in the United States is predicted as a result of the annual raids on these growths for holiday decorations, and with the advent of the municipal celebrations an early shortage is likely. This prediction accompanied an offer made Friday through the Chicago Tribune, by Henry E. Roney, a prominent Chicagoan, to give Christmas trees to 100 communities on condition that they take roots and all, and plant them.

Mr. Roney is quoted as saying: "I will give each of 100 communities a tree from forty to ninety feet high, but only on condition the roots be taken with the tree, and the tree be planted in public parks or along the streets."

Mr. Roney's wooded tract is along the shores of Lake Gogebic, in the northern Michigan peninsula. It has not been touched by the tree cutters, because, he says, it is nine miles from a railroad.

NEW PARTNERSHIP HAS BEEN FORMED IN LUMBER FIRM

Announcement was made Saturday of the formation of a partnership between Henry O. Norris and Frank C. Webb, under the firm name of Norris & Webb, for the sale of lumber and other building material.

For several years Mr. Webb has been associated with Mr. Norris' lumber business here, with headquarters at the office in North Fourth street, corner Locust. By the new arrangement he becomes a partner in the management.

STORY WAS EXAGGERATED.
A story was circulated Saturday to the effect that Miss Emily Colwell, daughter of R. S. Colwell, of Granville, was overcome by dental gas or Friday and was quite ill. Miss Colwell herself denied the report, but said that she had become ill after taking the anaesthetic, due to a slight attack of indigestion, but that she quickly recovered her normal condition.

ENDORSE

for the conference. By noon it was predicted by the leaders already here that more than 1,000 would have arrived. Senator A. J. Beverage of Indiana, is expected to arrive about noon. His address is expected by the party leaders to be the feature of the conference.

Another proposal that will be submitted to the conference this afternoon is that of establishing permanent headquarters for the Progressive party of the state in Columbus, it was stated today. Leaders of the party who arrived here this morning contended that the new party is a fixture in state politics and said Columbus was the logical point for permanent headquarters.

The policies advocated by the progressives concern themselves with the children, the mothers, farm life and everything that pertains to the common everyday life of the people, said Mr. Littleford. He did not dwell long on the issues of which are to be fought out on the floor of the conference. The tendency manifested by the leaders of the convention, was to let the delegates themselves decide the question without dictation.

Half a dozen suffragettes, led by Mrs. Marriett Upton Taylor, of Warren, Ohio, were present at the conference, waiting for an opportunity to urge adoption of a state-wide woman's suffrage plank.

Following Mr. Littleford's address, a resolution committee was named delegates from each congressional district naming one committeeman. The committees went into session after adjournment of the morning session. It was said the committee is opposed to naming a "state advisory" ticket at this time. Its report, it is predicted, will favor nominating at the state primaries in August.

A majority of the members of the committee is said to favor woman's suffrage and nationwide prohibition but there is a division of opinion of the state-wide prohibition proposition.

Former Judge Littleford declared in his address before the convention that "amalgamation will come some day" but that it will be when all good Republicans have been swallowed up by the Progressive party. Loud cheering and prolonged hand-clapping greeted this remark.

Mr. Littleford's reference to Former President Roosevelt as one of the leading citizens of the world also caused the delegates to cheer loudly. The Colonel, Mr. Littleford, said is doing more good in South America than any peace treaty ever signed with the South American countries. If the signs of the times holds good," continued the speaker, "the Progressive party will elect its first president in 1916 and at a meeting of this kind, I need not mention his name." This assertion was followed by a song in which Col. Roosevelt's name appeared frequently, sung loudly to the tune of "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly."

Wigg—"I feel that I am just cut out to be Gerlie Gotrox's husband."
Wagg—"Too ad. Who cut you out?"

"We are never too old to learn," quoted the Wise Guy. "That's right," assented the Simple Mug. "A man never realizes how little he knows till his small son gets old enough to ask questions."

Theaters

Edison Talking Pictures.
How can pictures talk? The very name "Talking Pictures" suggests the impossible. Who would ever conceive the idea of making them talk but the great inventor Edison? The latest product of his genius was exhibited at the Auditorium, last night, to a large and very appreciative audience and everyone marvelled at the fact of seeing the performance, in pictures and actually hearing the performers talk their lines and sing their songs. John J. McGraw the manager of the New York Giants, was shown in all his glory as a vaudeville actor and he was true to all the traditions and his baseball talk was all to the merry. He also appears in a society sketch and appears equally at home. The entire opera of "Olivette" is a big part of the big program. The engagement is for tonight and Sunday matinee and night.

Henrietta Crossman.
Taking as a basis the New York criticism, Henrietta Crossman has in her newest vehicle, "The Tongues of Men" by Edward Childs Carpenter, the greatest play she has had in years. This new comedy comes to the Auditorium, Friday, January 9, direct from a successful engagement at the Harris Theater, New York, where it scored heavily. Undoubtedly Miss Crossman has in her newest comedy a part that shows the varied aspects of her charm and art to the very greatest advantage. Sale of seats starts Wednesday.
